GROWING TOGETHER

FRIENDS ARE LIKE FLOWERS ...

... IN THE GARDEN OF LIFE.

Q. E. Students Raise $1925 for Christmas Charity.

FROM THE BUD TO THE FLOWER WE ALL SHARE THE STRIFE.

OUR GROWING TOGETHER IS A WONDERFUL THING

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE JOY IT WILL BRING.

FOOTBALL FEVER STRIKES Q.E.

On October 15 the masses turned out for an exciting football rally in the gym. The rally was held in an effort to evoke fan support for football games, and to give recognition to our hardworking players. The highlight of the event was a relay staged between the teachers and the junior and senior football teams. Each group was to put on football equipment and race to the end of the gym and pass the gear onto the next relay member. The teachers succeeded in donning the equipment faster than the teams. Could it be that there were fewer teachers to get the equipment on?

THE WINNA ... HAIRY HAIRY MR. HERBERT

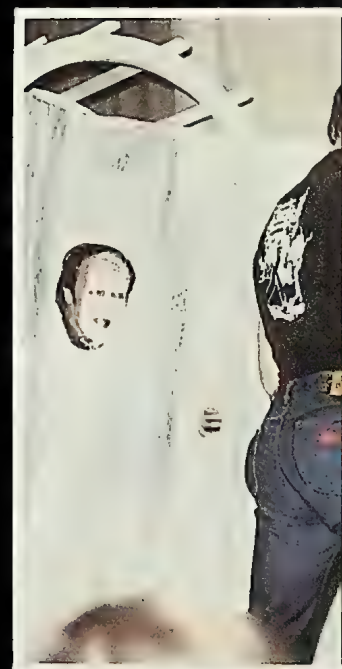

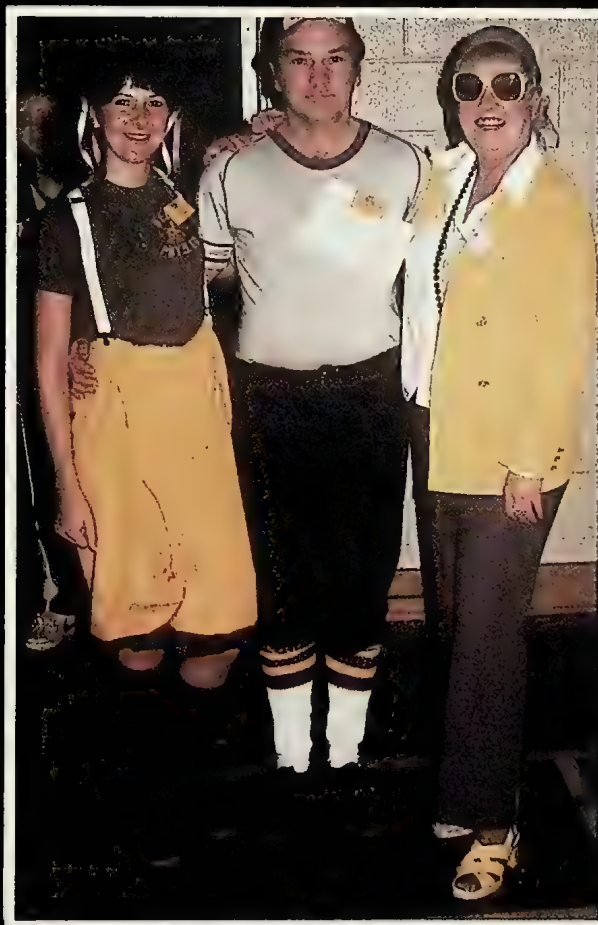

On December 8, the Key Club held its second annual Hairy Legs contest. There were fourteen contestants, one of whom was Wayne Crouse, a columnist with the Edmonton Sun, and six judges including Laurie Lancaster of CHED. A spirited Bruce Bowie, also from CHED, was guest commentator.

All of the proceeds from the contest ticket sales were donated to the Christmas Bureau. The Key Club matched the $172.40 raised, dollar for dollar. The total contribution this year exceeded $300.00. Thanks to the hairy legs, more people enjoyed Christmas.

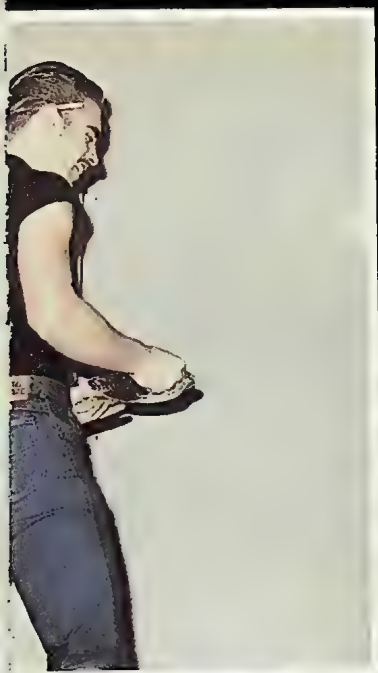

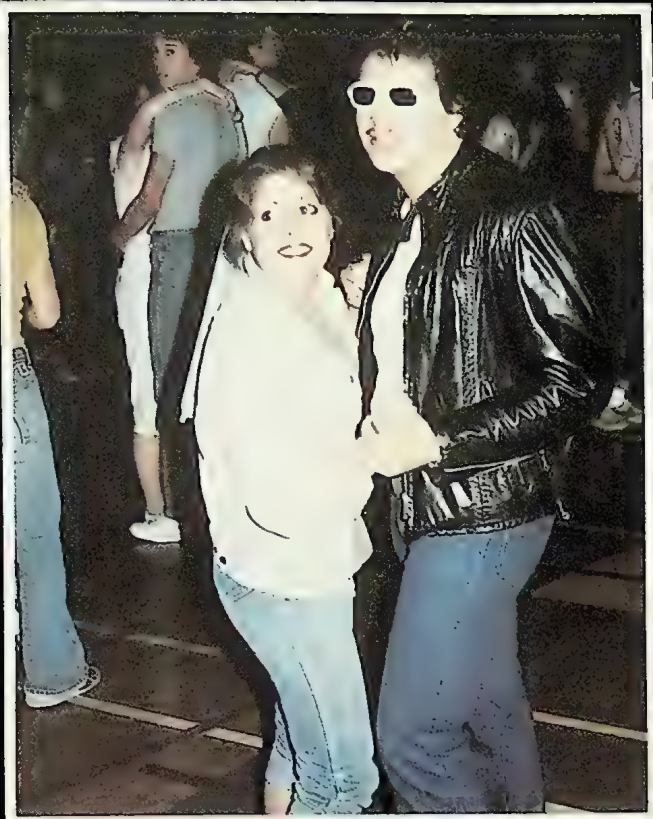

SHOW US YOUR PURPLE AND GOLD

On October 29, we witnessed a surge of school spirit. There was a substantial show of support for "Purple and Gold Day". Imagine, 1800 students seeking their match (an idea of the Key Club).

Sharon Wasylasko and Elaine Myschuk, dressed as siamese twins, won the "best dressed" contest, and for their ingenuity received Q.E. Jerseys. Other prizes such as Q.E. sweaters, sweats, pins, and even popcorn were awarded to the students who found their matching number. Congratulations!

SHOW US YOUR GREASE

Mr. Cumming's PFL class sponsored a noon greaser dance on Nov. 17, to help raise funds for a field trip they had planned to Teen-Time ranch. The dance drew over 500 people and seemed to be enjoyed by all.

A side-event of the dance was the PIE-IN-THE-EYE Contest. Judges from the class, circulating through the crowd selected the ten best dressed greasers. The students chosen were then able to throw a cream pie at a variety of teachers and administrators.

The event was so successful it will likely become an annual event.

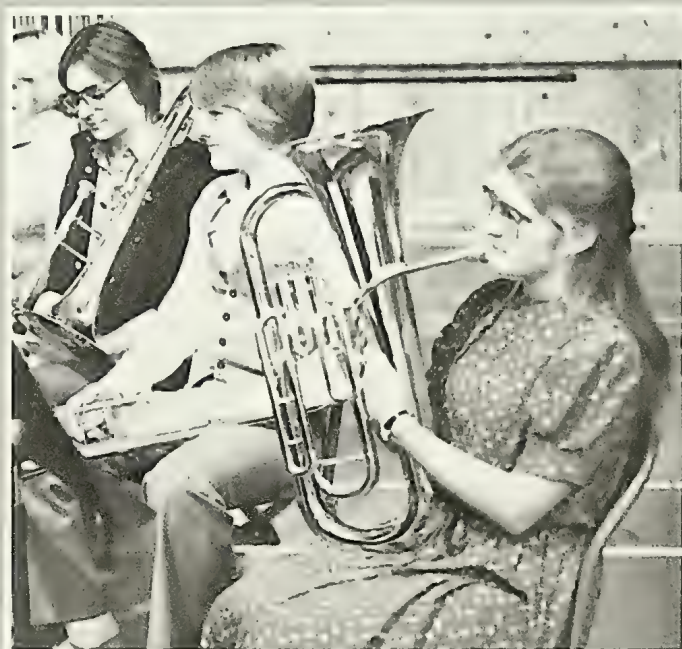

THE GREAT WESTERN MELODRAMA

An apt title for the farewell performance play put on by the teachers and Drama 20 class and directed by Mrs. Brand.

The antics of the teachers and students brought forth well deserved applause and laughter. Everyone agreed that it had been an enjoyable time, and a good way to start the Christmas holidays. We appreciate the talents of everyone involved. Can you recognize Mr. Auton, Miss Hawkes, Mrs. Rose, Mr. Sparks, Miss Swekla, Mr. Rae, Mr. Olthuis, and Mrs. Brand?

THE MUSIC PLAYS ON

On November 18, a full house came to see the sights and hear the sounds of Queen E's Night of Music. The performances of the Senior and Intermediate Bands, the Choral class and club, and the String Ensemble brought forth tremendous applause. Afterwards many congratulations were offered to both Mr. Holmes and Miss Lang for their terrific job of preparing this presentation.

WESTERN DAYS AND KNIGHTS

Howdy Partners! Let them eat cakes ... hot ones, that is! And over 400 hearty appetites did just that, munching away on a breakfast, cooked and served by those wonderful little old flap-jack-makers, the teachers.

A special, extended noon-hour show proved to be the highlight of the day. With MC Barry Davies of CFCW Camrose, students participated in an arm-wrestling contest and toe-tapping music.

Bill and Betty Caulter called square and novelty dances throughout the noon-hour, while live fiddle music was provided by Calvin Nolroth. Law and order for the day was "maintained" by the student-elected sheriff, Mr. Tanasichuk.

CELEBRATION '82

BIRTHDAY PARTY

In honour of Queen Elizabeth, for whom our school is named, a birthday celebration was held on May 27. Activities included a 20-legged race, a tug-of-war, 2 live bands, and an Action Auction, and, to finish it off an indoor dance. All of these events were, of course, monitored by our own "Queen and Prince." The turnout was exceptionally good inspite of the cool weather and the very wet water-filled pit in the tug-of-war. There was no lack of food or school spirit as droves of students and teachers turned out for all of the events, and the cake was enjoyed by all!!!!

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

This yearbook is dedicated to the graduating class of 1981-82. Graduation from high school is but the first step in a long climb for further education. Some of you will go on to University or Technical College; others of you will find your niche in business life immediately. Whatever your path, your education never ceases. You learn new skills, you add to your supply of knowledge, and your knowledge of the world is widened.

Throughout your high school career your teachers have impressed upon you the necessity of doing your best and achieving to the maximum of your capability. Along with that has been the hope that you become good citizens, prepared and willing to take your place in the world and make your contribution to it.

Best of luck to every 1981-82 graduate as you embark on your new journey, remembering the Queen Elizabeth motto: Virili parati.

This year, the Queen Elizabeth Grad Council hosted a very successful Commencement ceremony at the Jubilee Auditorium on May 5. As this year was the first year that the Jubilee was used for the Commencement ceremony, more than 2000 people were able to attend to watch our Grade XII's receive their certificates.

"Time" by The Alan Parson's Project Band was chosen for this year's Grad Theme Song.

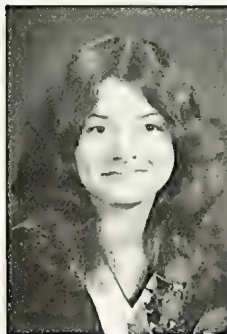

On May 13, the Graduation Banquet and Dance was held at the Red Barn. Fourteen hundred tickets were sold for this event and from all appearances, it was a very successful evening.

Best Wishes to all Queen Elizabeth Grads for a bright and successful future.

Commencement. It represents the transition between Present and Future, Today and Tomorrow. It symbolizes both an end and a beginning. It is a time for us to reflect on memories and to consider hopes and dreams.

For three years we have existed as one group, seldom together as a whole until tonight. And as a group, we have experienced the safety and security found in numbers. We've had the support of the team, the club, the group of friends. Even when we were down victory could still be attained through the group. The team could succeed where we would fail. But tonight, at least symbolically, the security of the group comes to an end. Each of us will have to face the future by ourselves. Without the common ground of the school, many friends will drift apart, and our sanctuary from outside pressures will be no more. In this sense, tonight is a night for sadness. Each of us will say one good-bye tonight that will truly be the last farewell.

But this is far from an evening of remorse. If we can retain one friendship, one ability, one dream which these past years have granted us, then we have no reason to mourn.

Tonight we are born as individuals. We now assume responsibility over our most precious possessions: ourselves. For years we have been told that responsibility is: taking out the trash, washing the dishes, cutting the lawn. But these have not been responsibilities. They have been menial tasks, mindless labours. Responsibility means that we have control; we have choices. Tonight we take charge of our future ... our tomorrow. We will have choices. We will have responsibility. Our parents have provided guidance, caring, love, but now the course of tomorrow rests solely in our hands. And although our parents will always be there to catch us when we stumble, the walking must be done by ourselves. Responsibility is ours now.

But where does responsibility begin? The saying goes that it begins in our dreams. Perhaps that is what commencement is all about. We hear it often said that we should all have a goal. But a goal is a practical thing, a logical thing, a cold want. Something we strive for, but often fail to truly desire. Too often it is what someone else wants for us. A dream, on the other hand, is something, perhaps a little foolish, perhaps a little illogical, but most certainly something warm which we ourselves desire. And each of us has a dream so personal, that to reveal it is to reveal ourselves. It may be the realization of great ambition. It may be the conquest of great fear. It may be the fulfillment of great love. Our memories are immortal, but only the future can transform "may be's" into realities. In the words of Langston Hughes

Hold fast to dreams
For if dreams die
Life is a broken-winged bird
That cannot fly.

Hold fast to dreams
For when dreams go
Life is a barren field
Frozen with snow.

I began by speaking of the end. I conclude by speaking of the beginning. In the words of the Stuart motto, "in my end is my beginning." Don't let your dreams turn to ashes, for they are the future, they are tomorrow.

by, Kevin Feth

- Tonight we'd like to mention some of the outstanding members of Queen E. society during the past three years.
- When they asked us to write this speech, we weren't quite sure what they wanted. However, we figured we'd give it a shot when they promised to let us sit at the head table with Mr. Tobert, Tony R., and all the big kids ...
- So we went looking for material. The students weren't much help - when we asked for the funniest thing about Queen E., the reply was always the same ...
- Yeah ...
- Just had to let the football team know we're all thinking of them tonight.
- Apparently Mr. Tibble was looking for a backer for our illustrious football team. He approached Peter Pocklington, but when negotiations failed, our Q.E. hothead turned to other means, and the rest is history ...
- We're glad to see the school rented a luxury bus for the trip out here tonight, and didn't rely on our own yellow boat. Word has it that after two years of intensive mechanical work, our beast can almost make it to 97th street without breaking down.
- Just to reassure everyone, guards have been posted on either side of Mr. Dymianiw's chair. After those block three announcements, we're not letting him anywhere near this mike ...
- Fashions have really changed a lot over the last three years. Especially jeans. Amid all the forty dollar Jordache denims around, isn't it nice to know Roy Sadler still shops at the Work Warehouse.
- We'd like to thank Leslie Clavey for all the inspiration she gave us during the grade 12 assemblies. Whenever we were unsure about the latest fads and fashions, we had only to check to see what color sweats she had on today ...
- This will probably be the last of the big grad classes at Q.E. I'm sure enrollment will drop after the picture of Mrs. Antonello in her gym shorts and lab coat was sent to all the Junior Highs. They say she's been given a new white coat, with a new type of sleeve that buckles behind the back ...
- The ski trip was a great success, except for a little confusion when Timba decided to call Calgary for a pizza. They said they don't deliver to Jasper.
- There were a few rookies on that trip, and they were easily distinguished. Most skiers like lots of snow when they ski, but Lorne Steinhauer thinks good conditions means lots of trees.
- The Argentine army has placed their order for a number of cars like Dave Bartels. Apparently they feel anything that can take what his car has might have possibilities as a new type of tank ...
- The guards just informed us there's an A.L.C.B. tanker truck outside. The driver says he's looking for a guy named Lonnie Killips, who's supposed to rock ...
- To close, we'd like to remind you all to have a good night, but drive safely.
- And we'd like to thank the Grad Council for all the hard work they've put into making this banquet a success.
- After slaving away for the last few months, here we are, all dressed up, out in the middle of the bush, sitting in a barn, eating dead cows, and drinking Kool-Aid ...
- What a grad to remember ...

Thank You,

Lorna Dawson

EDITORS MESSAGE

Being this year's co-editors, we often found ourselves with too much to do, and too little time in which to do it.

Because of fantastic staff support, a busy photographer, and a patient and a very helpful advisor, we managed to keep it all together and get things done.

We hope that we have captured the memories of 1981-82, and that whenever you turn these pages the memories will come back as if it was just yesterday.

Trina Paulson
Barb Gwiazdowski

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It's hard to believe another year has passed already, a year full of fun, laughter and memories. The members of Student's Union worked hard and the result was encouraging. Many successful events took place. Purple and Gold Day, X-Mas Charity, Assemblies and Valentines Day.

It was great to see more people out participating; getting involved in Queen Elizabeth. It seemed that as peoples' awareness in school rose, so did their school spirit.

Wishing you all the best of luck in everything you do!!

OUR GROWING TOGETHER

GROWING TOGETHER

Remember the feelings,
You felt in school.
Remember the jokes,
And breaking all the rules.

Remember the fun,
All through the years.
Remember the hard times,
And all the tears.

Remember the good times,
And making new friends.
Remember doing new things,
And setting new trends.

Remember us growing together,
And conquering our fears.
And always remember that they were our best years

Karen Petryshen

FRIENDS FOREVER

It's part of us,
This moving,
this growing,
this friendship.
Crumpled notes in secret code,
only for us to know.
for hours we would talk on the phone,
(when we were both at home alone)
We have some fights,
but we have more fun,
For we had dreams we both shared of far-off magical places.
I knew from the very start,
that we would never part.
Our true friendship would never die,
to each other we'll never lie.
Always we would be together
We will grow together,
Forever.

Kelly Norris

SHARING

Friendships build and people grow
It's from the fact that we can know
We are not here to merely age:
We simply play a role on stage.

Horizons can fade away,
And clouds may come to stay;
Rain will pour and snow must fall
But living is what will never stall.

Life goes on, the present turns to past,
Yet with each other we can last,
Hold strong to memories, clutch to dreams
And try to seal all broken seams.

So, as the months turn to years
We'll share our laughter and our tears;
Be it shining sun or stormy weather
We'll laugh and cry but grow together.

Sharyn Wasylasko

MEMORIES

In this fast paced world with so many choices,
Where do we turn? There's so many voices.
What will happen? Where will I go?
Will I be happy? Who will I know?
My mind is a room full of questions;
where will I find the key?
The truth, the key, the answers, to open that door is me.
The times we spent are the times we treasure; the memories will remain ... forever.
If things should fall apart and you are sad and lonely,
Remember that your memories are yours and yours only.

Honorable Mention to: Lorna Dawson for "Snowbirds" and Ling Yee for "Stalkers," their short story submissions to CKUA's High School Story Tellers Program.

REMEMBER

Remember the first time you tied your own shoe,
Your first doll, your first bike, your first day at school.
Remember playing tag far out in the field,
And marbles or jump rope, as small children squealed.

Remember those precious junior high years,
Adolescents confused, with love, hate and tears.
Remember those first really special friends,
Who stood by you, through good or bad, right to the end.

Remember thinking, "Next year I'll be in Queen E."
And wondering how boring or exciting high school would be.
Remember the strange faces, queer feelings, and frosh,
And saying, "What room, which teacher," and "I think I am lost!"

Remember the Social, English, Chemistry and Math,
How you had hoped, and wished that it all would pass.
Remember the beginning, the big grade 12 year.
Wondering, in which direction you'd like your life to steer.

Now as you reflect upon those joyous school years,
Remember the love, and the laughter, you shared with your peers.
Think to yourself, now that grade 12 has come to an end,
That the happiest moments, were spent at school with your friends.

Debbie Purych

THE GRADUATION

You sometimes think
You're trapped in a prison.
Your jailers don't understand you,
They feed you cookies and milk,
When you crave caviare and champagne.
You learn the language of
"I don't know" and "I don't care"
In defiance.
You cry out in frustration, "I'm a man!"
They only answer, "You're a child."

They finally release you
On a cold, Sunday morning.
"I'm free," you think
As they open the door.
Your temporary insanity is over.
You walk towards the barren plains.
"You're a man!" they shout
Excitedly behind you
And you finally whisper,
To the impersonal, blue sky,
"I'm a child."

Ling Yee

I'M NOT ALONE

I do enjoy the times I have and the people that I meet and sunny days and the rain life is always sweet.

And as I grow I'm not alone
my hopes and fears I share with everyone whose both here or gone;
well everyone who cares.

They way we go is up to us and we alone can choose but others make it all worth the while with good friends we'll never lose

Barb Gwiazdowski

ALWAYS REMEMBER

Growing together day by day,
But each of us growing in a different way-
Through the good times as well as the bad.
Through the happy along with the sad.

Sharing our hopes, voicing our fears.
Shouting for joy, crying those tears.
Knowing each other inside and out,
Ready to help, without a doubt.

Having those quiet afternoon walks.
Just being together, those private talks.
As we go on to our separate careers,
We'll never forget those growing up years.

TRACK AND FIELD

The 1982 version of Knights Track was an exciting one for Coaches: Miss Marples, Mr. Frizzell, Mr. Herbert and Mr. Dufresne. Although going to the City Championship with a team of 35 members, the team managed to extend itself to a fifth place showing. A great feat considering the top four schools had teams in excess of 100 members. The tremendous attitude and commitment exhibited by this year's members indicates "something good" is beginning to happen in Knights Tracks. The coaches feel that the team is on an up-surge and will be a force to contend with in 1983, particularly with the number of potentially fine tracksters slated to move into Queen Elizabeth next year.
